LEE'S SUMMIT SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Lee's Summit, Missouri

Volume XXVIII

FOREWORD

On February 28, 1908 our grandparents took part in dedication services for the new Lee's Summit Senior High School. Through the years the face of our Senior High School has changed from the Senior High that is now the Lee's Summit Elementary School, to the Lee's Summit Junior High School, and finally to the present Lee's Summit Senior High School. Even now changes are rapidly being made.

The enrollment of the Lee's Summit Senior High School was approximately 50 in the year 1908. The student body has transformed to a total of 975 this year.

To keep up with the growing student body new teachers have been added to the faculty.

From the prim oratorical societies of yester-year to the ebullient Pep Club of today, organizations have both changed and been remolded by the next generations. The basic principles still remain.

The past and the present of the Lee's Summit Senior High School and the town of Lee's Summit have been contrasted throughout the following pages of the 1962-63 REFLECTOR.

Cole Younger was part of the historic past of Lee's Summit. His grave attracts visitors.

DEDICATION

On December 3, 1877 the town of Lee's Summit was incorporated. Until that time it had been known as Strother. Lee's Summit has expanded from the small village of Strother to a modern suburban town. Community interest in the town has advanced with the population. The school performs a significant role in the community.

Intricately woven into the lives of the citizens are the past and present histories of Lee's Summit. In honor of these contrasting histories, we the yearbook staff of 1962-63 dedicate the REFLECTOR to the town of Lee's Summit.

The corner of Main and Third Street fifty years ago.

Because of the early publication date of the REFLECTOR many important events of the school year are omitted. The all-conference Debate Tournament was held March 21. Being held here was a first for Lee's Summit. It was also a first for the interested students who watched it. This precedence for first was broken by Ruskin with Lee's Summit receiving a second place in the final rounds.

"Under The Big Top" Was The Theme Of The 1962 Prom

As Prom time neared, curious Seniors quizzed the Juniors on their hectic activity. But the Juniors guarded their theme plans well and presented the 1961-62 Prom with a flourish.

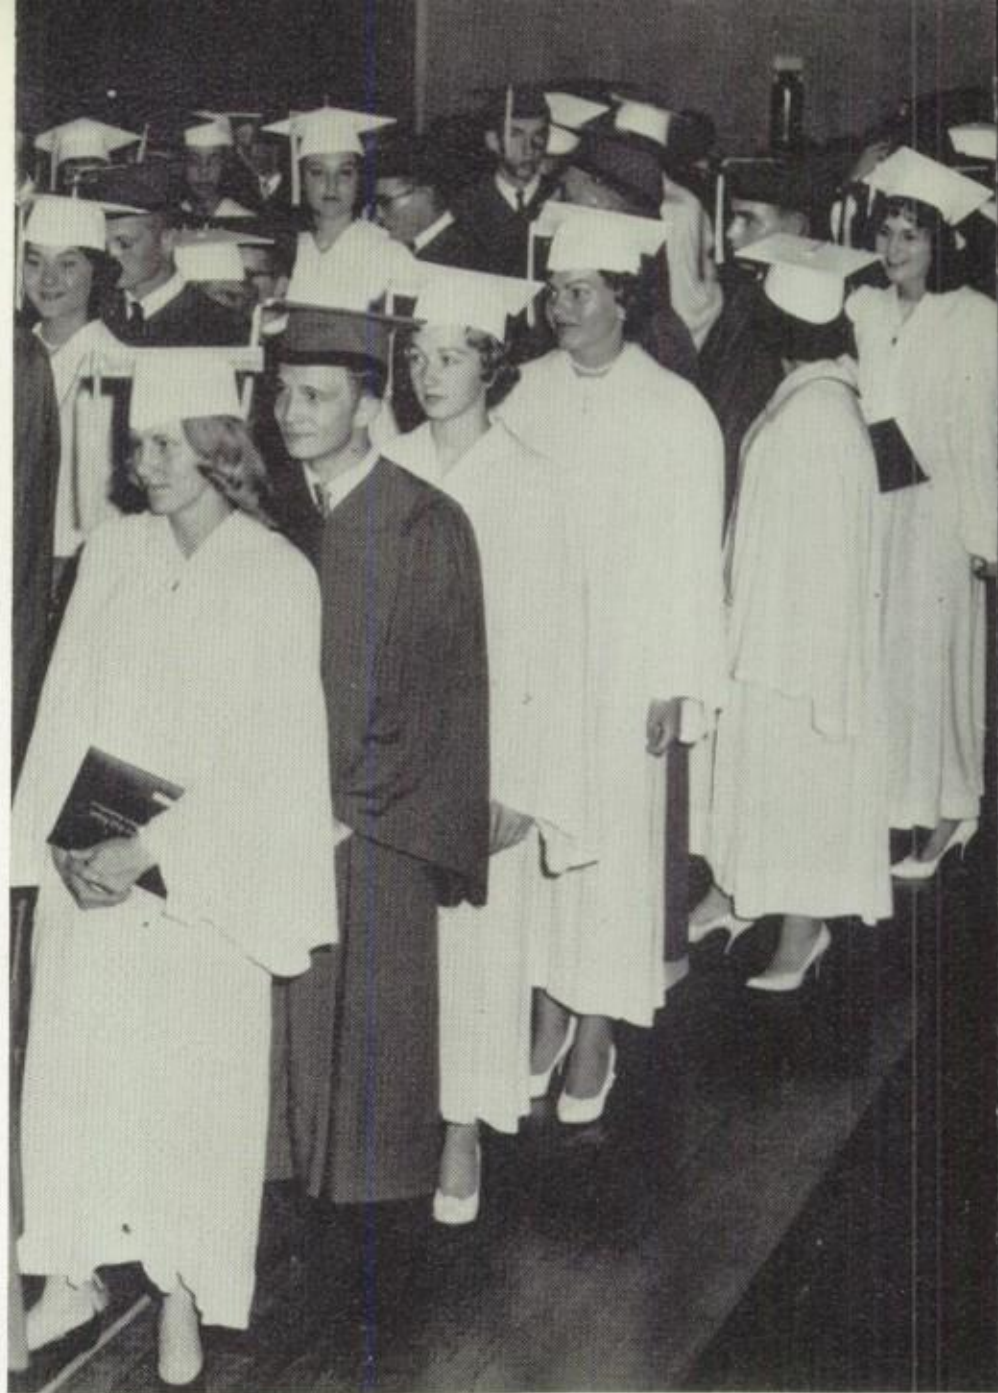

The circus came to town as "Under the Big Top" was presented. The gym was transformed into a circus tent with carnival booths, balloons, and even a caged tiger.

Freshman girls became for the night tightrope walkers and clowns. Mixing work with pleasure, they served peanuts and pink lemonade to the formally attired crowd at the circus.

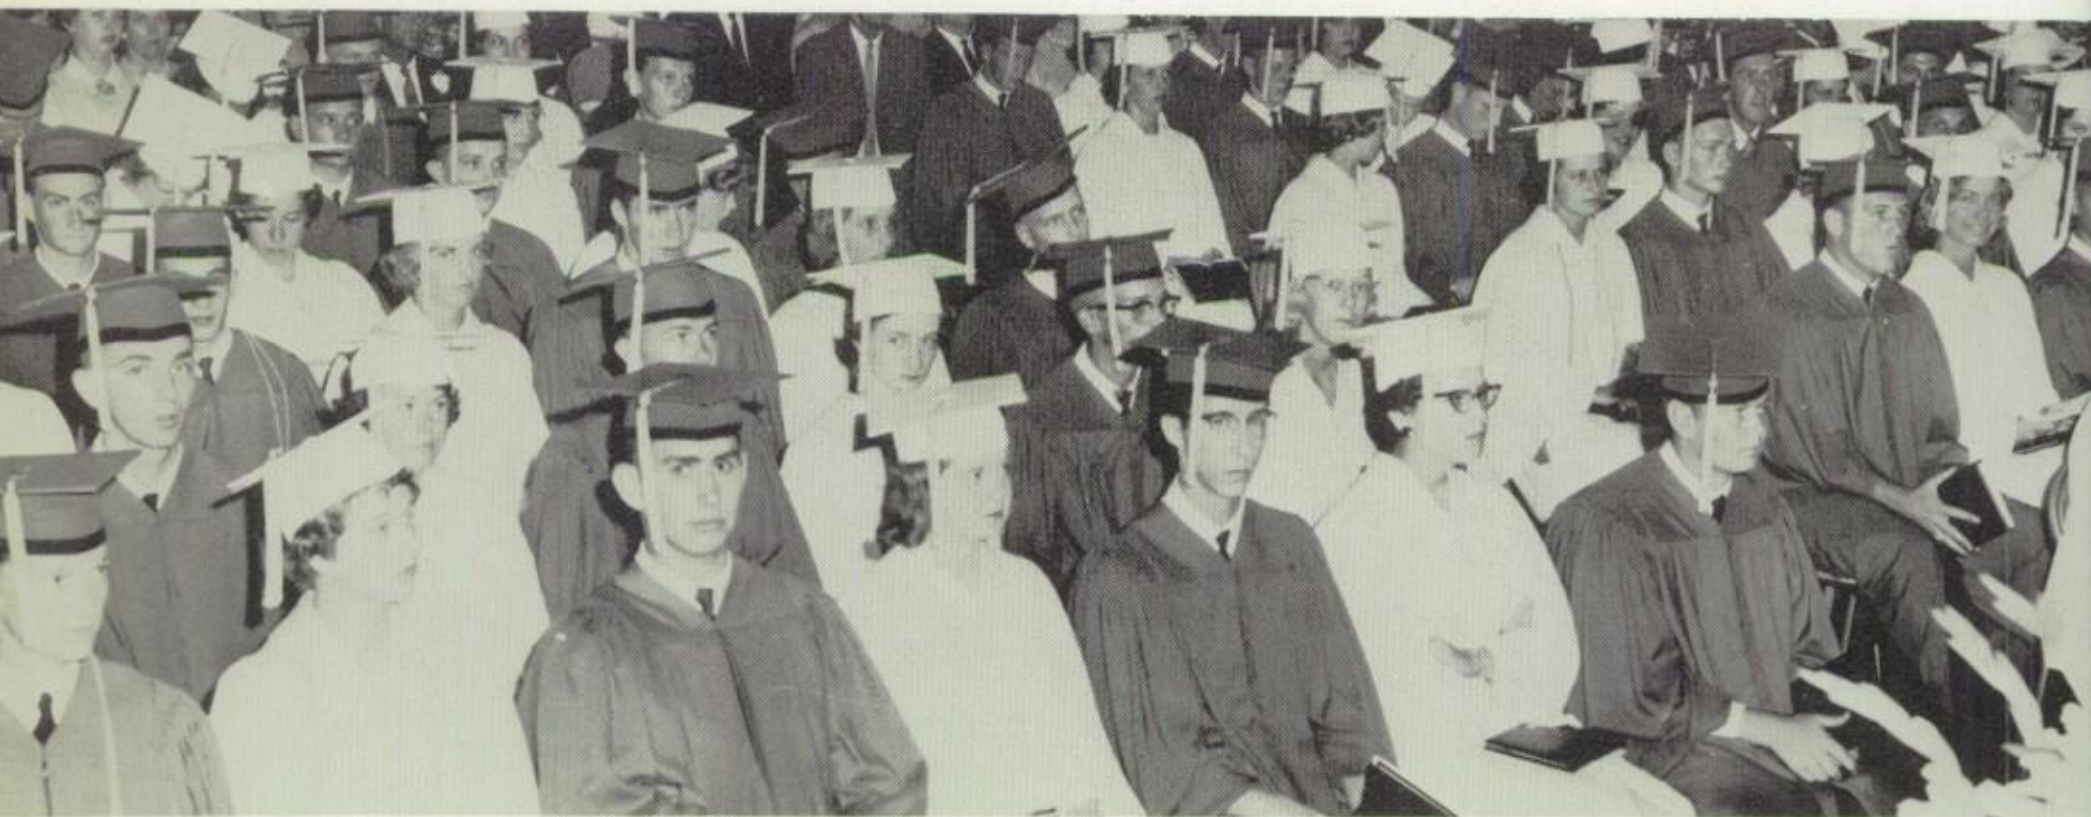

Les Copley provided the finishing touch with gay tunes of the circus on a brightly trimmed carousel.

Graduation climaxed four years of work, study, fun for 178 seniors. Reactions were varied as each senior was presented his diploma. This year's Senior Class is looking forward to the step that the class of 1962 has bridged into college, business, and careers.

Some smile, some laugh, and some are sad, now that graduation ceremonies are over and high school days are ended.

Students Leave With Mixed Emotions

Ambassadors Abroad Enhance World Unity

John McKee tells about his summer A.F.S. visit to Sweden in an all-school assembly.

The Lee's Summit Senior High School sponsored their first foreign exchange student in 1959-60. In the school year 1962-63, the Senior High School welcomed Yorma Merino from Chile. Yorma lived with the Robert Pease family. "Jo" as her fellow classmates called her, was officially welcomed to the community at a tea held at the C. W. Witter's in September. Jo furthered the American Field Service's goal of understanding between foreign countries, both for the Lee's Summit students, and for herself.

The A. F. S. program worked in reverse as John McKee lived with Swedish families this summer.

The Lee's Summit Senior High School tipped their hats to Yorma Merino and John McKee for the part they played as student ambassadors of understanding between nations.

It's not that bad Judy Barnes, even the Student Council must work during the summer.

Summer Preparations Insure A Successful School Year

Expectedly waiting for the Foreign Exchange Students to disembark are citizens of Lee's Summit.

School was not forgotten during the summer months. The student council carried on their work so that when school opened in September they would be ready to go.

On June 27 Lee's Summit's citizens housed foreign exchange students on their way to New York. The students presented a talent show in exchange with the Lee's Summit students at a pot luck supper.

Work Begins In Earnest Before September

Swimming pools emptied of shouting, tanned youth, the hamburger and coke hangouts waited for business at the end of the day, summer camps sighed in relief, and summer jobs dwindled. School had begun. Now all the energies of summer were channeled into schoolwork and extra-curricular activities. The school eagerly awaited the beginning of school events. Football games were first on the agenda, having been ready since August 15.

The football boys are back to school early to get in shape for the coming football season.

On Freshman Orientation Day John Ballou looks as confused as the other Freshmen.

PERSONNEL

In 1912 the Lee's Summit High School faculty consisted of four teachers. It offered a curriculum of science, manual training, English, Latin, history, and mathematics. The enrollment consisted of approximately sixty students, but there were three other schools in the district.

By 1916 vocational agriculture had been added to the curriculum and home economics was added two years later making a total faculty of six teachers.

In 1923 the Faculty of the Lee's Summit High School consisted of a superintendent, a principal, and nine teachers. The superintendent held a B.S. in Education degree, and teachers were considered qualified if they had acquired sixty hours of college credit, or if they had earned ten hours of college credit and had successfully passed the state teachers' examination. The average salary for teachers that year was $90.00 per month.

In 1923 the high school curriculum offered four years of English, four years of history, four years of mathematics, two years of Latin, two years of science, cooking and sewing. It also offered students a teachers' training course during their junior or senior years.

At this period in the high school's history, the enrollment had grown to one hundred and fifty-six students, with fifty-six members in the senior class.

In addition to other advancements made in 1923, this was the year that the first yearbook was published. It consisted of thirty-six pages and was called the Nonpareil.

In 1963 there were forty-seven teachers on the Lee's Summit High School faculty. The superintendent possesses a Doctor's degree, while seventeen members of the staff have Master's degrees. All teachers are required to hold a B.S. degree or its equivalent.

Today, the high school offers fifty-two courses covering many areas of educational pursuits. Several accelerated, college preparatory courses are included in the current curriculum.

The 1963 enrollment consists of approximately nine hundred and eighty students. The graduating class of this year will include nearly 180 students.

With the passing of almost half a century, Lee's Summit High School exhibits a remarkable record of growth and progress.

Their Tasks Are Guiding and Directing the Schools

MR. JAMES T. BROCKMAN
High School Principal

Operation of the school system cannot be entirely without heads. Dr. Campbell and Dr. Underwood fill these roles as administrators of the schools of the district.

At the top of the ladder is Dr. Campbell. He supervises the school board and sees that the board's policies are carried out. Each pupil of the district from kindergartener to the high school senior plays important parts in Dr. Campbell's organization of the school system.

Assisting Dr. Campbell, by supervising curriculum and teaching procedures is Dr. Underwood. He also keeps a central resource and professional library for the benefit of the teachers and pupils of the school district.

Occupying a central position in our school is Mr. Brockman. As principal he carries out the duties and policies directed to him by the school board, Dr. Campbell, and Dr. Underwood. As with the other administrators, Mr. Brockman keeps the needs of the student closely related to his work.

DR. RUSSELL RITTER, JR.

DR. CLINT L. MILLER

MR. OWEN COVINGTON

MR. ROBERT SCHWINDLER

Entrusted to the schoolboard by the voters of the community, is the work of regulating the schools from budget to rules. The schoolboard, composed of Mr. Herbert Whiting, Mr. E. M. Copeland, Mr. Owen Covington, Dr. Clint L. Miller, Dr. Bernard C. Campbell, Dr. Ritter, and Mr. Robert Swindler, always keep in mind their goal of the best possible education for the youth of the community.

Secretaries Contribute To Efficiency of School

From signing admission slips to making announcements over the intercom, the school secretaries do much of the needed tasks that contribute to the efficiency with which our school is run.

Mrs. Betty Davis, Mrs. Marsha Miller, and Mrs. Mary Gibson complete the many everyday tasks in the attendance office and the guidance office. Willingly, student office helpers cooperate with the secretaries.

Mrs. Helen Shiddell, Mrs. Virginia Patton, and Mrs. Mary Winburn fulfill their duties as directed by Dr. Campbell and Dr. Underwood.

Directed By These Capable Men

Beset with problems as all teenagers are, the students of Lee's Summit Senior High School turn to the able guidance of Mr. Tom Garrett and Mr. Lyle Jones. Similarly, Mr. Russell Stokes helps the Junior High students.

Under the counselors' able direction the students solve their problems of school schedules, jobs, college, and the ever present personal problems. Students in every grade take tests given by the guidance counselors.

Not only do they guide the students, they sponsor extracurricular activities. Truly the guidance counselors play a very vital part in school life.

ACTIVITIES

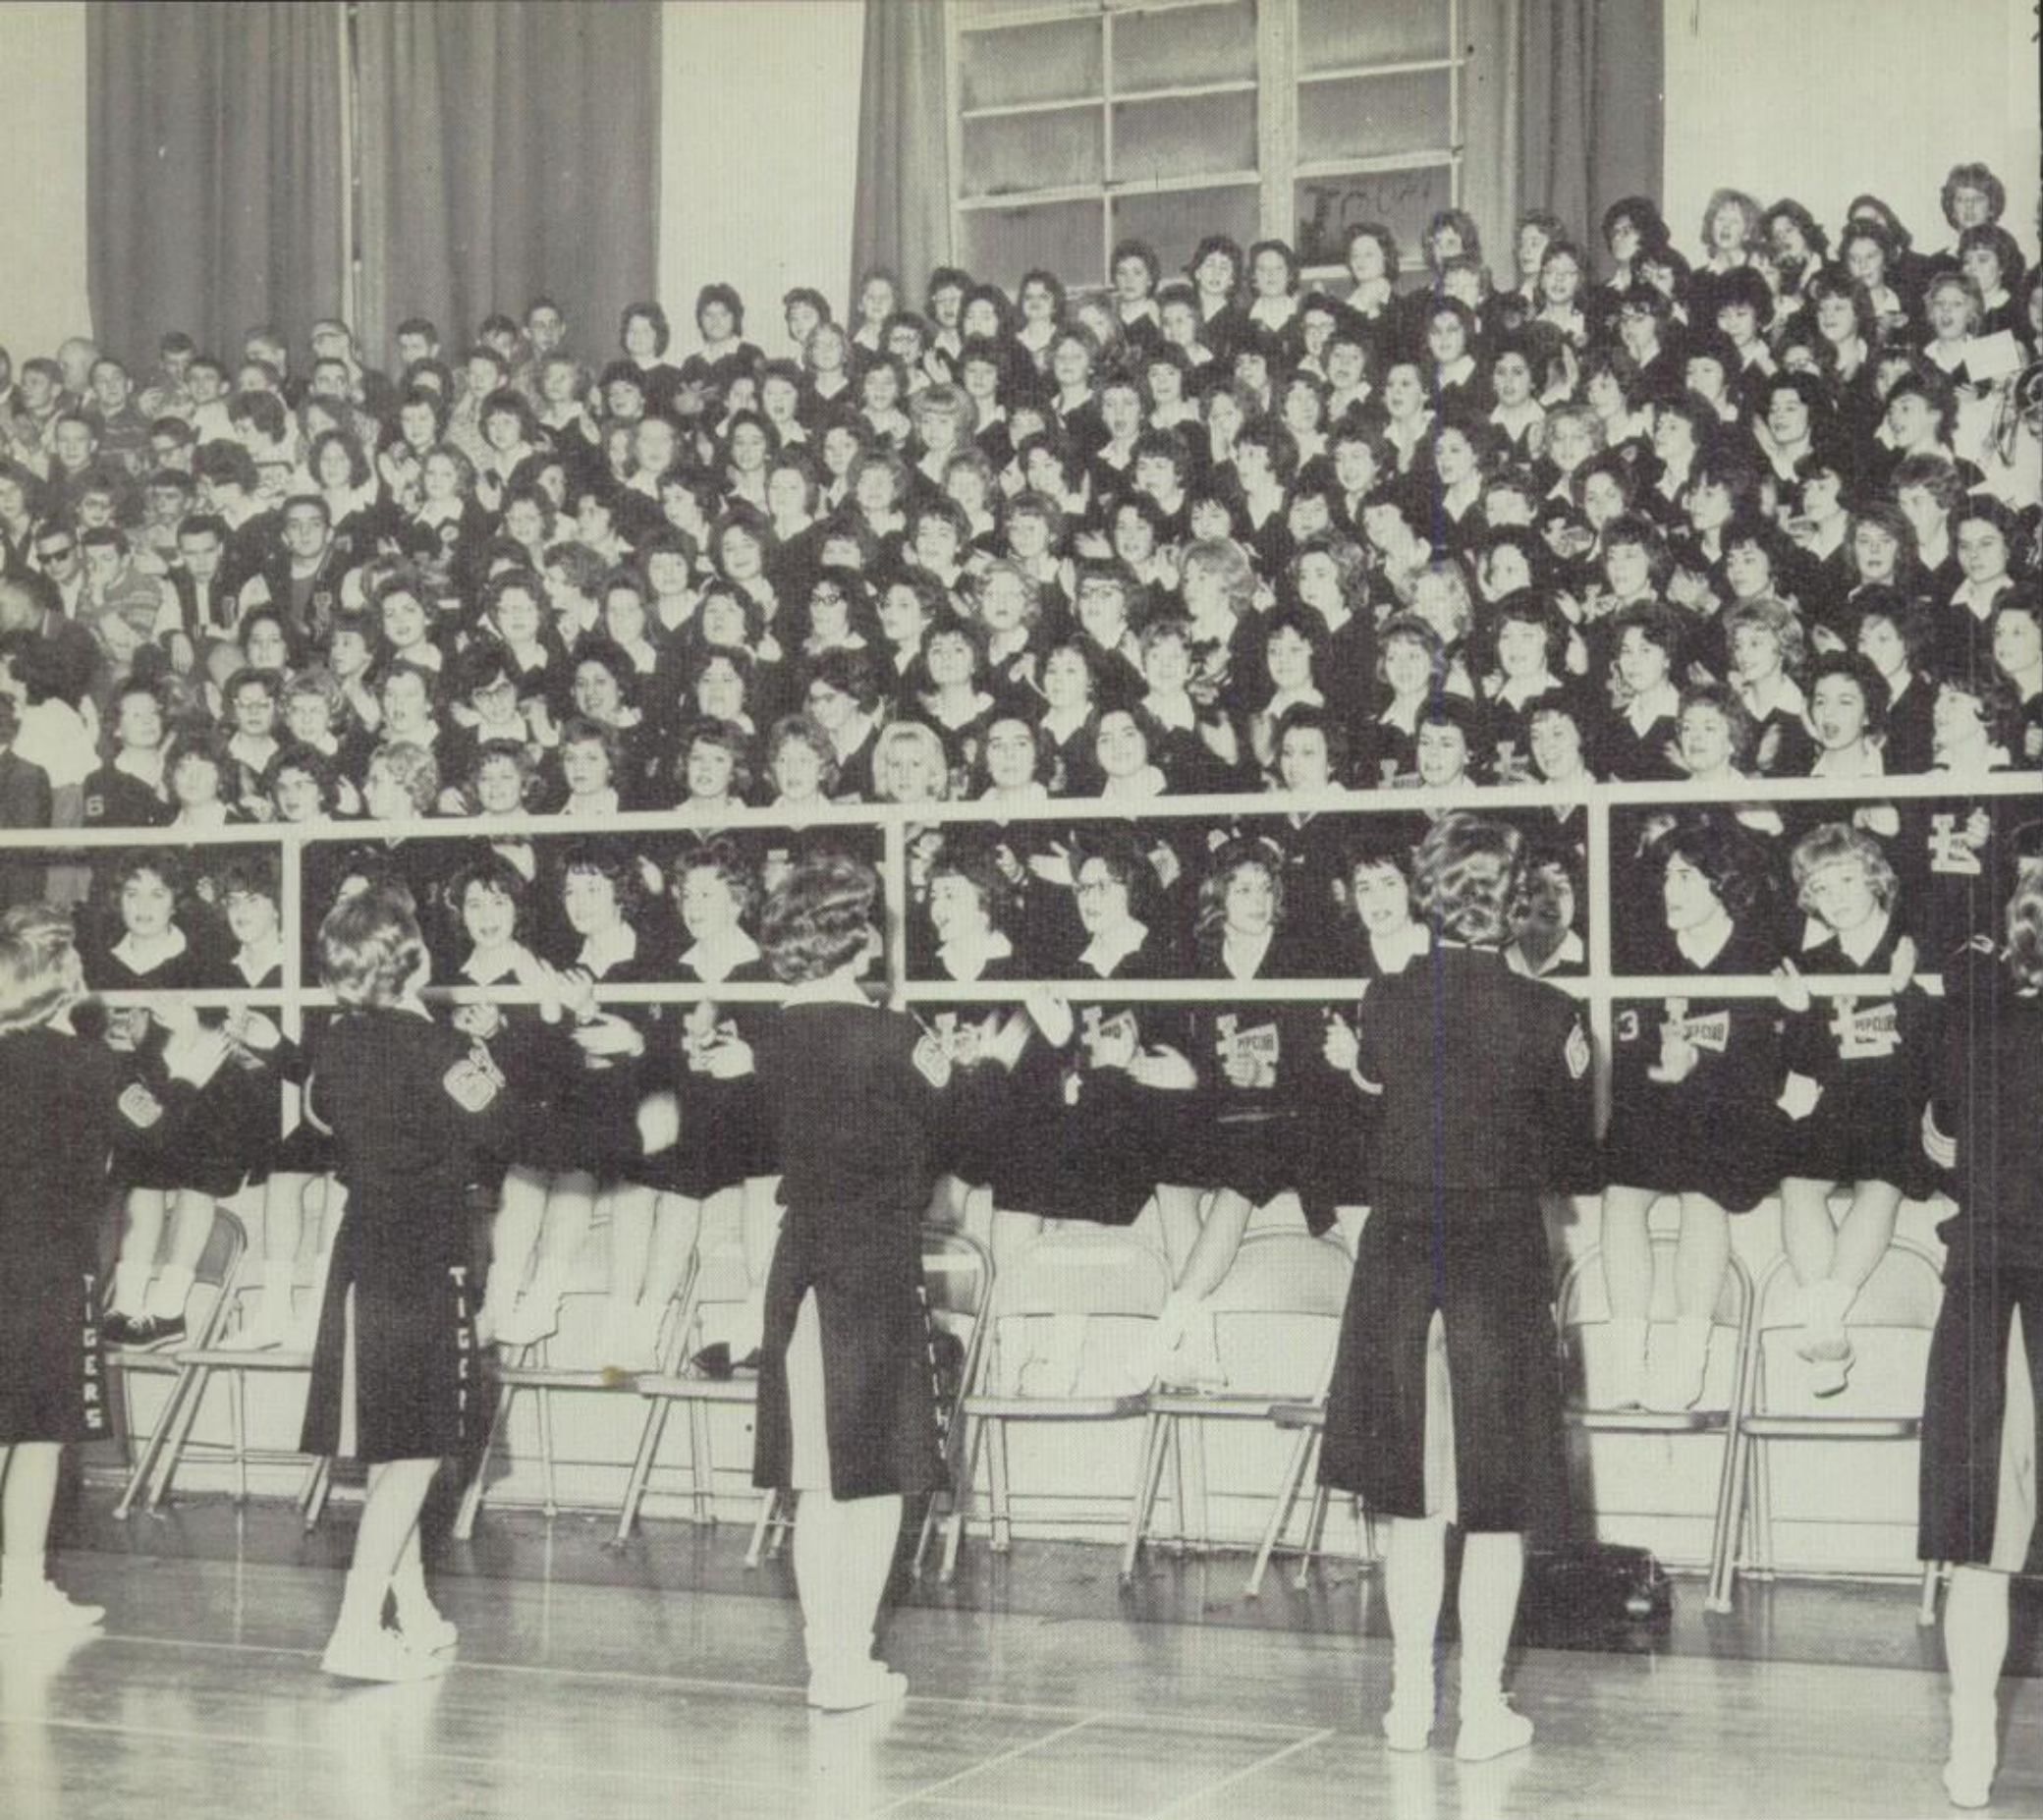

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and Lee's Summit High School offers plenty of opportunities for both work and play in her many fine clubs. She has a club or organization for everything from tumbling to Latin, but Lee's Summit students were not always so fortunate. When Lee's Summit High was young she had only two extra-curricular clubs. Since Lee's Summit was a farming community, these were, of course, the Future Farmers and the Future Homemakers.

As the community grew and changed, so did the high school. Old clubs swelled in membership and new ones were added. Names were changed for some clubs, but in spite of these changes, the basic principles have remained the same.

The clubs offer a chance to enjoy recreation with people of similar interests. Knowledge of specific subjects not readily available in the classroom can be obtained. All the vocational clubs offer the chance to get first hand experience in their particular field. These things are important to be sure, but perhaps the most important purposes are first of all to develop the individual as a whole, well-rounded person and second to present to the community a true and favorable impression of the high school student. In all these ways the clubs and organizations of our school are upholding the proud tradition which has so long been Lee's Summit High School.

Pep Club Sparks Enthusiasm

As the football, basketball, and track seasons came and went, the Pep Club kept up its strenuous pace of cheering the boys on to victory until the very last event. Under the leadership of Jan Gaffney, President; Carol Schwindler, Vice-President; Jackie DeWitt, Secretary; Verna Brummett, Treasurer; and Janet Hertzog, Historian; with Miss Diane Black's sponsoring, numerous activities were planned and carried out. In the early fall, the Junior Class and the Pep Club put on a tremendous Homecoming. In honor of the dads and moms of the football players, a drill by the Pep Club was presented at the last home football game. The moms were presented with large yellow mums and the dads sat at the sidelines wearing their sons' numbers. Instead of the annual chili supper to have been at Ruskin, they put on a coke party, because of the tremendous size of the L.S.H.S. Pep Club. At the home basketball games, the Pep Club, the largest organization in the school, had trouble finding seats for all the members among the many spectators that came to see the Tigers play another excellent game. At Christmas, the Pep Club gave Hilltop School for Girls two hair-dryers. In the spring the new officers were elected for the following year and a picnic climaxed the club's activities. The Pep Club, truly played a big part in school life and was a great contributor to school spirit in Lee's Summit High School.

Our Pep Club officers, Jan Gaffney, Carol Schwindler, Jackie DeWitt, Janet Hertzog and Verna Brummett assemble in the study hall for a Wednesday afternoon meeting.

The cheerleaders, Joy Jones, Janet Tapscott, Sandy Constable, Susy Wilson, Brenda Jones, Jo Cleveland practice for the next exciting game.

Many of the girls in the Senior High School that are interested in sports joined the Girls' Athletic Association this year. Each Tuesday after school, the fifty G.A.A. members played volley, basketball, softball, jumped on the trampoline or performed stunts on the mats, under the sponsorship of Miss Diane Black.

G.A.A. members attended Sport's Days at Blue Springs, Shawnee Mission, William Jewell, and Center. Each spring, the Lee's Summit chapter holds its own Sport's Day.

Besides its weekly meetings, the G.A.A. held a coke party at the beginning of the year for all old and new members. Near the end of school, a picnic for all members is held.

Florence Dyke, Jane Lavelock, Virginia Russell, and Jan Peters volunteer to attend the Blue Springs Sports Day.

Members of the Tumbling Team perform before the crowd at a Tuesday night game.

Tumbling Became An Important Sport

Entertainment at halftime during the basketball season was provided by the 26 members of the Tumbling Team. Hard work during practice as directed by Mr. Parker resulted in dividends. The team was asked to perform before a teacher's convention at Warrensburg.

Being among the few tumbling teams of its kind in the Kansas City Area, the team was further recognized in the Kansas City Star.

Head Majorette, Verna Brummett; Drum Major, Wendel Hale; Majorettes, Mary Webster, Toni Williams, Jane Dunning, Cheryl Walkenhorst, Cheryl Mohns, Joanne West.

Majorettes Lead The Marching Band

For the first time in a number of years, the marching band included more than the usual six majorettes. This year there were the regular six in the front line plus head majorette, Verna Brummett, who marched in front of them. This was the first year for six of the girls. There were five sophomores; Jeannie Webster, Toni Williams, Jane Dunning, Cheryl Walkenhorst, and Cheryl Mohns. The sixth in the line included Joanne West, freshman. It was the third year for senior, Verna Brummett.

The majorettes twirl at all home football games. They march whenever the marching band does. This year they marched in such parades as LSHS Homecoming, Central Missouri State College Homecoming in which they received second place in marching competition, the PreRoyal Parade at Ward Parkway Center, and the strenuous American Royal Parade in Kansas City.

Giving commands at the head of the band was Drum Major, Wendell Hale, a sophomore. Majorettes for 1963-64 will be chosen before school is out in the spring this year. For the same line to return next year, they must compete with any other girls who wish to try out. A new head majorette will also be chosen since this year's will be graduating this spring.

Our band proudly played at the dedication of the post office.

The LSHS band, composed of ninety-three proficient musicians, is one of the largest groups in our school. The band spends the first portion of the school year perfecting its marching ability, which the members display at football games, parades, and district marching contests. The many hours of marching practice paid off when the band received second place at Warrensburg last fall.

After marching season, the band sets to work practicing for its numerous concerts. The Christmas and Spring formal concerts are highlights of the school year. The band also provided the background music for the all-school play, Bye, Bye Birdie.

During the entire year the band works toward the district contest at Warrensburg in the spring, both as a concert and in the form of many small ensembles and solos. Last year the band received a "one" rating as did many of the ensembles and individuals.

Beside its many school functions, the band also participates in many community activities such as parades, dedications and concert tours.

The audience hushed, the conductor raised his baton, and the nearly one hundred voices of the Lee's Summit High School Choir blended in the harmonious strains of a well-known Christmas hymn. But the Christmas Concert was only one of the many fine programs in which the choir participated during this past year. Under the able direction of Mr. Riffie, the choir sang its way through the district contest at Warrensburg, the Spring Concert, and many other programs. By no stretch of the imagination could the choir's repertoire be considered small. They have sung selections ranging from sixteenth century madrigals to works by contemporary composers.

Congratulations to Mr. Riffie and the choir for a very successful season.

The LSHS dance band, now in its third year, is a well known group in our school. The fine music produced by its members is often heard at assemblies and private parties.

The dance band is conducted strictly on an extracurricular basis, holding its practices after school.

Mr. House and his "swingin'" band have become a popular group with LSHS'ers.

The Pep Band of LSHS is made up of approximately fifteen members who enjoy basketball as well as music. The band plays at all pep assemblies and home games and some away games. They are always eager to help the cheerleaders and Pep Club with cheers.

The Pep Band has become known for its lively sounds, not only in our own community, but also in those of neighboring schools.

Tryouts were held for choir ensembles soon after the beginning of the school year. Those selected by Mr. Riffie were then assigned to certain groups which met regularly with Mr. Riffie to rehearse for their participation in the District Music Contest at Warrensburg. The ensembles and soloists who received a rating of "one" at this contest were eligible to go to the State Music Contest at Columbia, Missouri.

The Library Club Promotes Good Reading Habits

The Library Club is composed of the voluntary helpers who work in the library regularly during the week. The purpose of the Library Club is to discuss problems that the members experience during the course of their jobs, and to find solutions for them. Aided by the members of the Library Club, Lee's Summit Senior High School students used the library with ease.

CO-OPERATIVE OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION

Each morning before eight o'clock during the school week could be seen students running to class. These scurrying students were members of the Co-operative Occupational Education class, popularly known as C.O.E. C.O.E. served as a supplement to each student's outside job. In class, the problems of business referring to each individual's own job and other business in general were studied. The officers of the year's C.O.E. class were Ward Garrison, president and Glynda Hudson, secretary-treasurer.

Busy Future Teachers Aid Faculty

If you should see a large bundle of papers coming down the hall, stay calm and look again. You are likely to find a Future Teacher underneath.

Future Teachers are very busy people. When they are not selling refreshments for the school play or grading papers, they may be delivering Christmas to a needy family.

Nancy Browning, president, and Marcy Pease, vice-president, conduct the club's affairs with great capability, while Becky Bratton, secretary, and Nancy Powell, historian, keep written record of what goes on. Susan Witter, treasurer, keeps a watchful eye on the finances.

All these varied activities are conducted under the able guidance and direction of the four sponsors, Miss Simmerman, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Spencer, and Mrs. Van Hook.

Science Club Keeps Up-To-Date With The Changing World

The Lee's Summit Senior High's Future Scientists Club is dedicated to the following purposes: to learn about science, science careers, the opportunities, responsibilities, and important role science plays in our democracy; to explore our own interest and abilities in relation to the various fields of science; to cultivate in ourselves the qualities of personality, character, and leadership which are essential to scientists. Other important purposes are to learn how and where scientists receive their training, its cost, the scholarships available, the number of years required, and the academic prerequisites and standards. Inspiration of the F.S.A. was obtained by studying the lives and the influence of great scientists and stimulating interest in and interpreting science to others.

At meetings important events were discussed, interesting trips were made to various institutions, science fairs were attended, and science projects were discussed or compared.

Mrs. Barbara Van Hook guided the Science Club throughout the year in all its various activities.

Agriculture Is Their Primary Interest

The Lee's Summit High School chapter of Future Farmers of America is one of the most active in the area. The 35 boys who comprise it are active in innumerable areas of agriculture. The present chapter is one of the largest in recent years. The chapter is fast becoming active in district and state activities, having participated in contests and elections on those levels.

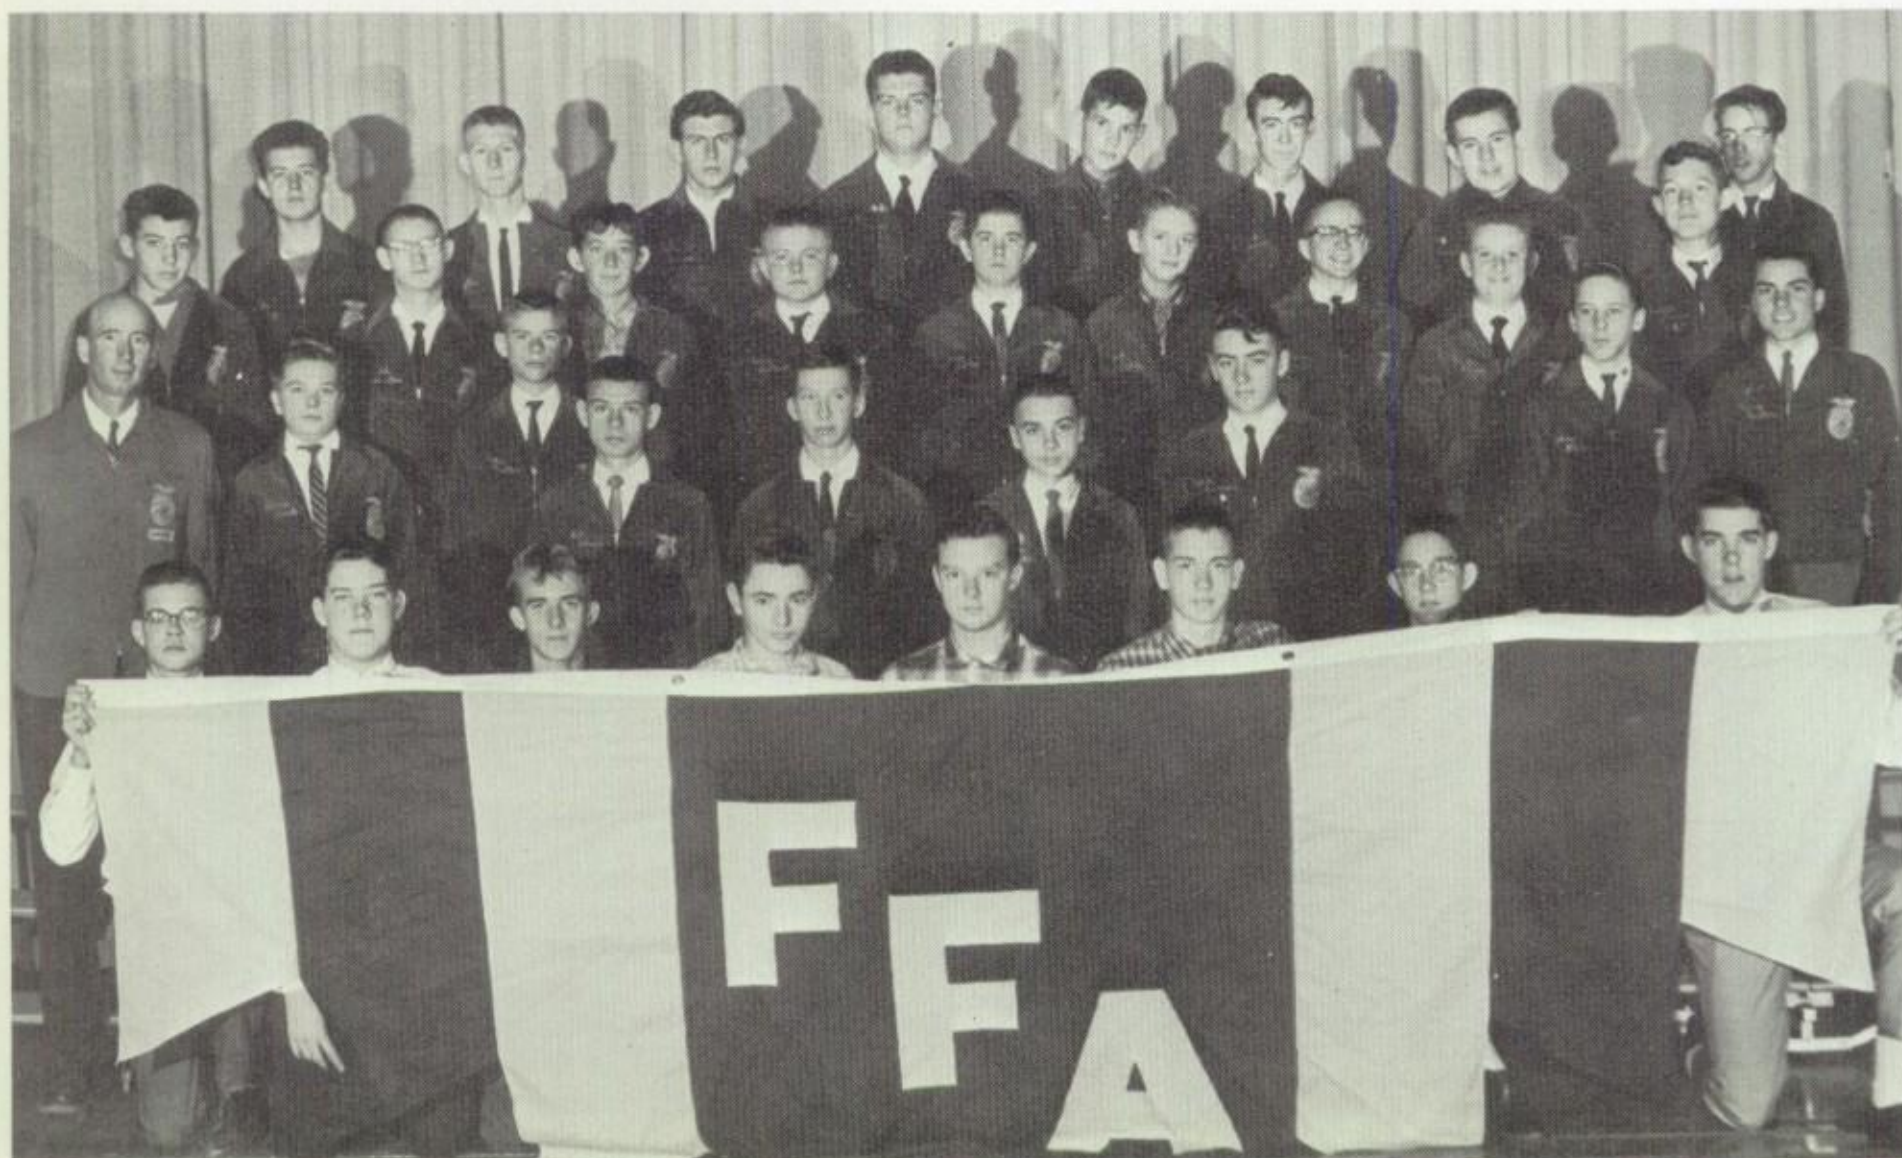

The boys, however, do not spend all of their time working. The F.F.A. Barnwarmin' is one of the highlights of the school year. Not only does it sponsor a dance, they also have hayrides, coon hunts, and in the fall the chapter makes several trips to the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City. In the spring, those members who have earned various honors are rewarded at a father and son banquet.

The over-all goal of the Future Homemakers Association is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future. The state theme for the year was "Project You." To carry out this goal, the state chose two objectives: discovering myself and my worth to others and strengthening my education for future roles.

This year's F.H.A. chapter won the novelty prize in the Homecoming Parade. The F.H.A. cooperated with the F.F.A. to sponsor the Barn-warming Dance in October. Christmas caroling, a personal improvement demonstration, and a picnic completed 1962-63 program.

One of the main activities of the Latin Club is the building of its Homecoming float.

The Latin Club began a busy year's activities by entering a float in the Homecoming Parade. The float's theme was "Head off the Bluejays." It depicted a tiger slicing off the head of a bluejay with a guillotine.

During the Christmas Season Latin Club members saved Butternut Coffee strips for the needy and sent contributions to Boys' Town.

Mr. Paul Hitner, Latin Club sponsor and Latin teacher, came to L.S.H.S. this year after studying for four years in Rome, Italy.

Representative Government Is Put In Practice By The Student Council

The Student Council acted as one of the most important organizations in our school this year. It worked closely with the administration to improve our school. The Student Council met on alternate Tuesdays each month.

This seventeen-member organization was made up of four members from each class--two boys and two girls. Our student body president, Tom Boten, elected by the entire student body, served as the council's president.

The Student Council participated in both district and state Student Council activities. The Student Council sponsored an American Field Service foreign exchange student and financed a telephone call to the student's home country at Christmas.

The Christmas candlelighting service, one of the most unique assemblies ever presented, was conducted by the senior members of the society. This candlelighting service, because of its traditional silence throughout the entire program, has been nationally praised.

Attending the state convention was another activity of the National Honor Society. The convention, held in Columbia, was well attended by both junior and senior members of the organization.

In the spring, the annual banquet was held. The junior members entertained the senior members at this banquet to close the year's activities.

To promote the development of character, service, leadership, and scholarship in the individual is the purpose of the National Honor Society. Before one can attain membership in this organization, he must possess these qualities.

The Tap Assembly opened the year's activities for the National Honor Society. Fifty-eight juniors were inducted into the organization, which brought the total membership to one hundred and ten. Four senior members spoke on the four qualities necessary for membership. Richard Jorgensen spoke on character; Verna Brummett, service; Glynda Day, leadership; and Jack Cambell, scholarship. A reception was held after the assembly for the new members and their parents.

Deadlines Kept The Hi-Life Staff Hopping

The 1962-63 school paper, the Hi-Life, has taken a new look. For the first time in the history of LSHS the Hi-Life is being printed in newspaper form. Gone are the days of mimeographed school papers. The change has come under the supervision of Mrs. Itrice Eubanks, sponsor of the Hi-Life. There has been many other changes and activities which have increased the interest in the school paper within the student body.

One of the highlights of the year for members of the staff came in the workshop that was held before school started. At this time all of the staff members recieved instructions on writing news from one of the journalism instructors at the University of Missouri.

Many events have occurred this past year in and outside the halls of LSHS. The Hi-Life has recorded these events so that the student body will know and will understand the many activities that occur in the Lee's Summit Senior High School.

Reflector photographers, Fred Decker and David Shirck, are really on the job at the pep rally held downtown.

Frantically the staff worked on the 1962-63 REFLECTOR as the publication dates neared. Every Tuesday and Thursday after school, busy members could be found in the REFLECTOR room planning layouts, writing copy, and pasting everything from pictures to each other.

By March, the REFLECTOR had been sent to the publishers and the frantic working relaxed enough for the REFLECTOR staff to sponsor the Goldiggers' Ball. This dance, an annual event, was especially welcomed by the girls, for the asking role was switched and anxious boys were escorted to the dance by the girls.

The REFLECTOR staff climaxed its year by attending a banquet where new editors were announced for the following year, and with lots of OH's and AH's they received the new REFLECTOR. The next day the student body received their REFLECTOR at an autograph signing party.

So ended the year of the REFLECTOR staff as old members relaxed, and new members rushed frantically about in an endless cycle of work.

Made The All-School Play A Hit

For weeks before the All-School Play was presented, two hundred students hurried to practice every day after school. Under the able guidance of Mrs. Betty Witter, Director, and Jackie DeWitt, Student Director, practice was organized, and work on scenery, costumes, and all necessary committees rolled smoothly on.

With a flourish of the band, the curtain went up and Bye, Bye Birdie was presented. The students laughed with the audience at the antics of the Macafee family, Rosie, Albert, Mamma, and the handsome teen-age idol, Conrad Birdie. After two nights of performances, November sixteenth and seventeenth, the Lee's Summit Senior High School's All-School Play was packed away until another successful run the following year.

Mary Dixon and Sandy Green look as though they are enjoying Pep Club initiation, but Pat Wilson doesn't seem too sure.

Tired but proud of their distinction are the winners of the Pep Club initiation Lynn Yeldell, Janel Graves, Judy French, Janet Scott, and Gloria Knaus.

Homecoming

Tell us, Eddie Bradley and Bob Alley, what is there about being parade marshals that makes you look so happy?

Excitement reached its peak at the Homecoming assembly. Each initiate hurriedly presented her skit to laughter and applause. Janet Scott and Gloria Knaus were awarded the prize for the funniest skit with their interpretation of the "The Stripper." The ugliest were Janel Graves and Lynn Yeldell as cave women.

The Homecoming parade was headed by queen candidates, class floats, organizational floats, and the Pep Club followed. The parade moved to the downtown Lee's Summit depot where the school held a rally, a first for the Lee's Summit Senior High School. At the rally, the winners of the floats were announced. Juniors were first, with their float of a large skunk entitled, "Liberty Isn't Worth A Scent." The Sophomore Class float was second and the Seniors third.

Even in the mud and rain the Lee's Summit Tigers fought hard and long. Liberty won by a narrow margin of 27-25.

During halftime activities the Queen, Sandra Constable, was crowned. She and her attendants were royally escorted to the Homecoming Dance and reigned majestically until the completion of the 1962 Homecoming.

Queen Sandy Constable and her attendants Carol Schwindler and Jackie DeWitt were presented at the pep rally held downtown after the parade.

Highlights

Final preparations are done on our queen candidates' floats by Miss Black, Lois Adams, Tom Gibson, Russell Davis, Barry Richardson, Janice Downing and Stan Slaughter.

School Dances Prove to Be Social Highlights of the Year

Many of the highlights of the year are provided by the school dances. Each class sponsors one dance a year. The freshman class sponsors the Valentine Dance; the sophomores, the Harvest Dance; the Juniors, the prom; the seniors the Christmas Dance. Barnwarming is sponsored by the F.F.A., and the Reflector staff sponsors the Goldiggers' Ball. A novel theme is presented by each class. Well attended, the dances prove an asset to many students' social life.

A combination of camera difficulties and an early publication date made it impossible to have pictures of some of the dances.

Loud and clear, the band brings home the message to these couples at the Valentine Dance, sponsored by the freshman class.

South American Visitors Increase Our Understanding

GERENICE GUSMAO CUNHA, visiting teacher from Bahia, Brazil, used the opaque projector as she told of her native land.

South American visitors predominated our school this year. Our main visitor, "Jo" Merino, spent the year with the Robert Pease family. She soon became just a regular LSHS'er but with the added attraction of being a student ambassador of the American Field Service.

A visitor for two weeks, January 25 to February 2, was Miss Gerenice Gusmao Cunha from Brazil. Miss Cunha taught English in the schools of her own country. By attending classes in the elementary, junior high, and senior high schools, Miss Cunha observed the teaching techniques of the Lee's Summit schools. The visits of both "Jo" and Miss Cunha have proved to be learning experiences for both of them and the students of Lee's Summit.

JO MERINO, foreign exchange student from Chile, works diligently to prepare a speech that she is to give to a group of Lee's Summit students.

Seniors Are Honored as Band King and Queen

Each year the band honors two of their senior members. Those who vote take into consideration what these members have contributed to the band throughout the years they have been associated with that musical group. The members of the band recognized John McKee and Verna Brummett as the 1963 BAND KING and QUEEN.

CLASSES

In 1923, the first yearbook of Lee's Summit High School was published. Over forty years many changes have taken place in the students of Lee's Summit and their activities.

Nonpareil, the first yearbook of 36 pages, has now changed to the Reflector, with over 200 pages. Maybe the contrasting size of enrollment has brought about that difference, for there are 950 students now, as compared with 156 in the high school of 1923.

Public Speaking has changed to Debate, and the seven piece orchestra has become a one hundred piece band. The All-Class play of 1923, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," has been transformed into the ultra-modern All-School Play of this year, Bye, Bye Birdie.

Sports remained the same. Placings in the basketball conference improved for the better, for a 1923 third place has become a 1963 first place. The same starry-eyed queens have changed but little. Still elected by the student body, their beauty represents the school.

As the year comes to a close, graduation dawns upon the seniors. The Seniors of 1923 were the last class to graduate in the old Memorial Building. Through their special efforts, they helped to build the present junior high school which will soon become an elementary school. In the same auditorium where they have participated in pep rallies, assemblies, and games, the Seniors of 1963 will graduate. But even though the changes have been numerous, no transition has been made in the ideals and hopes that produce Lee's Summit's fine students, proud of their school and prepared for further education.

The Lee's Summit High School, dedicated in 1924, is soon to become an elementary school.

The Freshman Class

In September, 1962, the Freshman Class came into the Lee's Summit Senior High with nothing but awe and wonder. When the 8:40 bell rang, panicked freshmen and they clattered down the hall searching for their first hour class. Surprisingly by 9:00, all were in their seats (except those whose lockers just would not open!)

At the first Freshman Class meeting, the members selected their class officers. They are:

president, Don Jackson; vice-president, Vicki Duncan; secretary, Patsy Dennis; treasurer, Mary Ann Powell. Freshman Student Council members were Sandra Long, Connie Fillmore, David Flanders, and Chuck Keil.

Freshmen were guided in their activities by their sponsors, who were Mr. Conkling, Mr. Garret, Mr. Heffelfinger, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Van Hook, Mr. Stokes, and Mr. Reid.

Sophomore people were very busy individuals. No longer new or uncertain in this business of high school, they have really taken their place in the school life. High on the list of important events was the initiation of sophomore Pep Club girls. While these girls prepared for the messy business at hand, plans were made and executed for the class float which took second place. The class officers, Harold Grasmick, president; Alan Smith, vice-president; Judy Grady, secretary; and Nancy Alexander, treasurer, capably led the executive committee in planning the sophomore sponsored dance which was held March 9. The theme, "Hawaiian Harvest," was well expressed in the colorful decorations.

These many varied activities were conducted under the cooperative guidance of the classes' sponsors, Miss Simmerman, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Valane, Mr. Draheim, Miss Thomas, and Mr. Jones.

Junior Class

Juniors always seem to be the busiest class; the class of '64 took it in their stride. Among the Junior's responsibilities was the task of making Homecoming a success. Homecoming will always be remembered by this class because, for the first time, they captured first place on their float from the seniors.

At the first class meeting in September, the Juniors elected their class officers for the '62-'63 school year. They were Mike Gibson, president; Tracy Clagget, vice-president; Tanya Yeldell, secretary; and Jacque Stevick, treasurer.

Through the year, the Juniors were busy making money to present the Prom for the seniors. This was done by receipts from the ice-cream machines in our cafeteria and from the concession stand during basketball season. The glitters of their Prom dazzled all the guests and was the social highlight of the year.

Toward the end of the school year, class rings arrived. They were proudly displayed for several weeks before their newness was worn off.

As the school year closed, Juniors looked forward to next year when they would truly be "upperclassmen."

The faculty sponsors for the Juniors this year were: Mrs. Mitchell, chairman; Mr. Riffie, Mr. Childress, Mr. Maupin, Mr. Rook, Mrs. Witter, Mr. Davis, Mrs. Hopkins, Mr. Raymond, Mr. Diekmann, Miss Black, and Mrs. Reese.

SEMI-PRO FOOTBALL
OCTOBER 10, 1964

Football

In today's evanescent world, with its missiles, rockets and satellites, we must not overlook the changing mode in the sports' world.

The changes are evident right here in our own school. Until eleven years ago, Lee's Summit had only one coach to supervise all sports for both boys and girls. Today we have six coaches to give our fine athletic program the guidance it merits. Other improvements include better and safer field equipment, more adequate dressing facilities, and a budget which is three times greater than that of twenty-five years ago. Ten years ago, if a boy was injured while participating in athletics, he had no school insurance to take care of the medical expenses involved. He had to rely on the financial support of his parents, although he was given a great deal of free service from local practitioners. Today, this same boy could expect insurance provided by the school to fulfill his medical costs.

Sports of today are much more skillfully played as the result of having more students to choose from (five times as many as twenty-five years ago), more officials refereeing the games, and more games being played which in itself is an experience-gaining factor. This year we have four different teams within the school; Freshman, Sophomore, B-Team, and Varsity, compared with only a Varsity and second team ten years ago.

Another aiding factor in today's sports is the longer practice period. Football practice, for example, begins August 15. Ten years ago it was not started until the first day of school.

As we can all see, it is quite apparent that the sports' world has not been lax in keeping stride with other progress in different scopes.

Open Victoriously Versus Non-League Foes

LEE'S SUMMIT 19 - CLINTON 7. In their first game of the season, the Tigers leaped to a smashing victory over the Cardinals, allowing them to score only once. Perhaps the Tigers were more than ready to meet their foes, as the game regularly scheduled on Friday was rained out until Saturday. Highlight of the evening was Tom Boten's 87 yard touchdown, close to the end of the first half. Boten also made a five yard touchdown in the third quarter with the extra point being made by a pass from Gary Duncan to Mike Duncan. Gary Duncan also accounted for the first touchdown by making a 12 yard run.

LEE'S SUMMIT 20 - PARKHILL 13. Although the Tigers trailed 13 to 0 at the end of the first half, they came back with commanding authority during the remainder of the game to chalk up a victory for their first conference game of the season. Mike Duncan was responsible for the first two touchdowns with four and thirty-three yard runs, respectively. Jim Williams ran for the extra point of the first touchdown. With only three minutes left in the game, Larry Lang fired a seven yard pass to Evan Jewell, ready in the end zone, for the winning touchdown of the game.

A record of three wins, three losses, and one tie was produced by this year's B-Team. They started the season very well, but shortly after, began to lag in enthusiasm. With a victory midway through the season, they again discovered the fun of winning and completed the season successfully.

LEE'S SUMMIT 6 - RUSKIN 12. This game was lost by a mere 28 seconds and one yard. The Tigers were off to a booming start with an 80 yard gain on the opening kick-off. Mike Duncan, quarterback, then tossed to Larry Lang for the first touchdown. Scoring was held until the third quarter when Ruskin made a 68 yard drive for the deciding touchdown. The Tigers made a final threat to the Eagles with 28 seconds remaining, only to have Ruskin intercept a pass on the one yard line.

Tigers rip through hoop as fans cheer them on to a Homecoming victory.

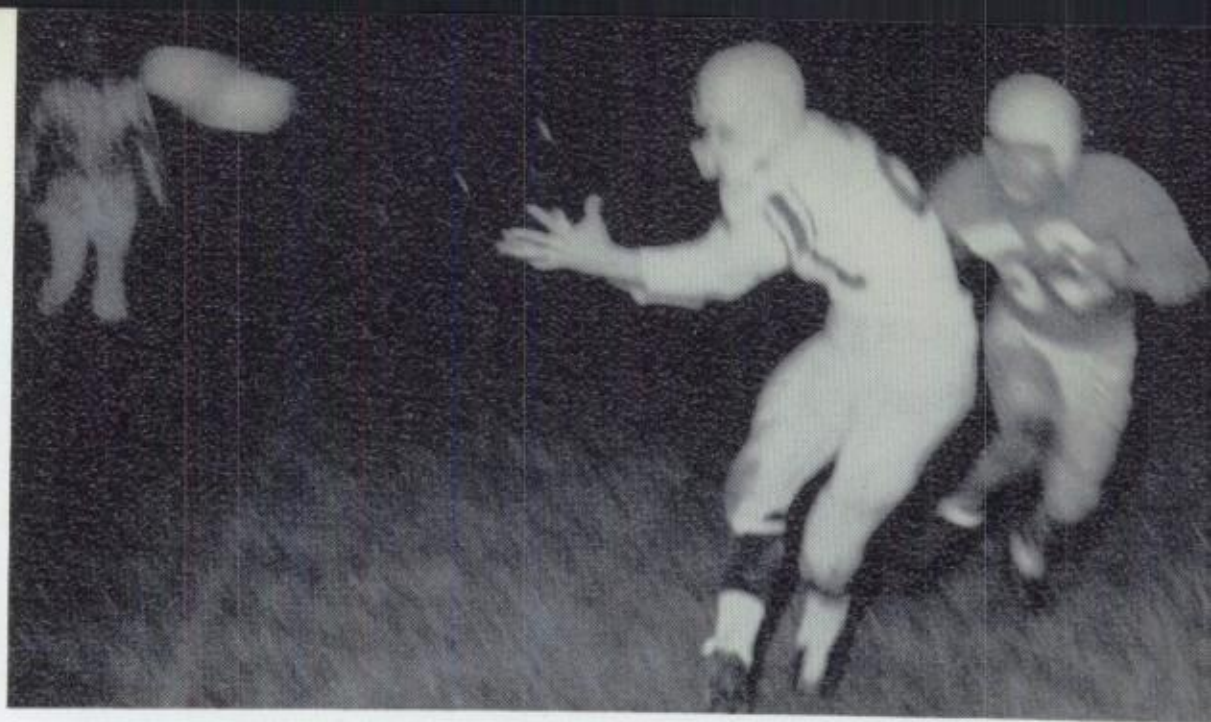

LEE'S SUMMIT 25 - LIBERTY 27. The huge crowd for Lee's Summit's Homecoming game could not have wished for a more exciting contest. Right from the start it was a "dog-eat-dog" row. Liberty went over for the first touchdown, only to have the Tigers bounce back with a seven yard touchdown pass from Mike Duncan to Evan Jewell. The Bluejays then broke loose with a good pass to surge ahead. Not for long though; Lee's Summit soon charged back with Larry Lang running six yards for a touchdown and Terry Sappenfield kicking the point. Liberty squeezed in one more touchdown, shutting out a would-be tie for the first half. The Bluejays again went over for the first touchdown of the second half. Action started for the Tigers, however, when Jim Williams, full-back, blocked a Liberty punt, Mike Gibson recovered, and Larry Lang dove over the one yard line for a Tiger touchdown. With eight minutes left, Lang passed 53 yards to Mike Duncan for another touchdown. Terry Sappenfield attempted a fourth down field goal from the 15 yard line, but it was just short, and Liberty took over. The Tigers made one last try for a winning touchdown, but a fumble on the 12 yard line ended the game.

Tiger Griders Rally For Homecoming

LEE'S SUMMIT 6 - FORT OSAGE 0. Lee's Summit messed up Homecoming for the Fort Osage Indians by holding them scoreless throughout a game, which proved to be mainly a defensive joust. After the Tigers made a 31 yard drive toward the goal line, halfback Larry Lang, plunged over from the three for the touchdown with only one minute remaining in the third quarter. It was the only scoring of this tight game.

LEE'S SUMMIT 19 - BLUE SPRINGS 0. All of the dads at the annual Dad's Night game were certainly honored when the Tigers triumphed over the Wildcats in their fifth conference game of the season. Larry Lang paced the Tiger attack by scoring all three touchdowns, making the extra point, and driving for two-thirds of the total yards rushing. Lang's first two touchdowns were from the two yard line, the second being made with only 19 seconds remaining in the first half. His third touchdown came after he carried the ball three times for 30 yards and then dove over from the one yard line.

LEE'S SUMMIT 7 - CENTER 28. Lee's Summit, being dumped by Center, lost their chance for third place in the conference. The Yellowjackets hit hard from the start and went over for a touchdown early in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Center captured the ball and scored twice within a period of 37 seconds. They again took over in the third quarter and drove 34 yards for another touchdown. Lee's Summit managed to score with six minutes remaining, when Larry Lang charged from the one yard line and also made the extra point.

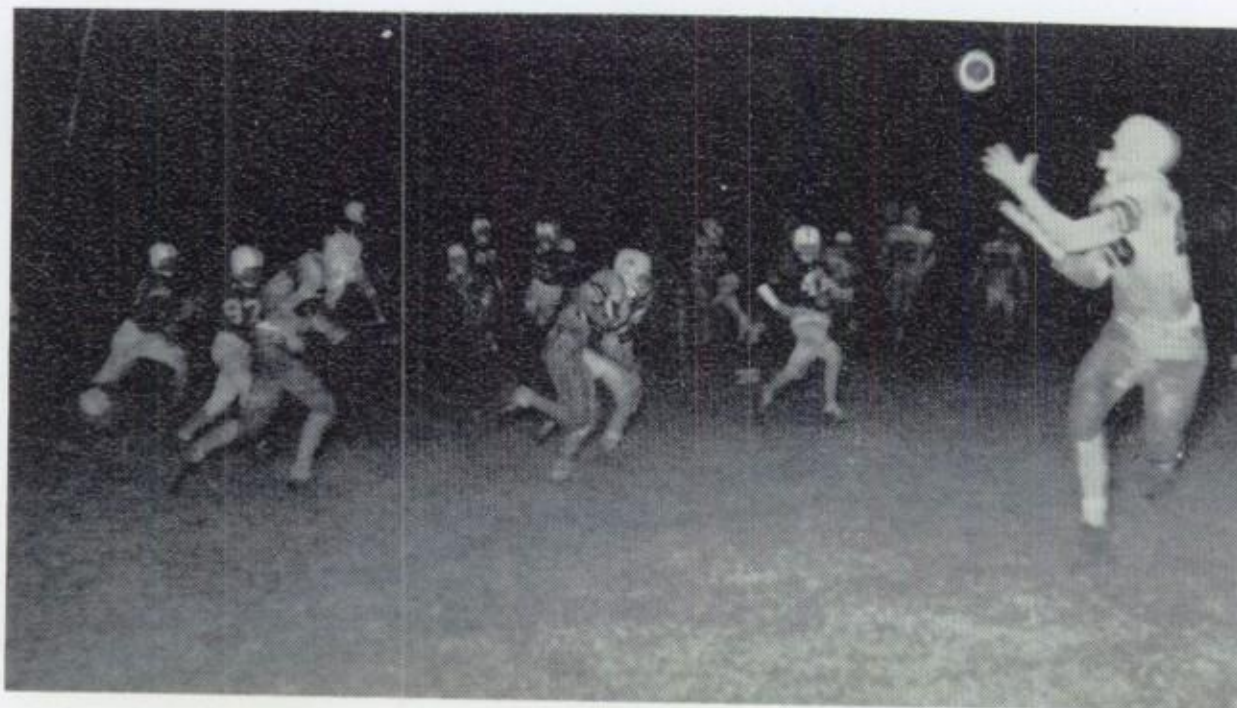

Pass is fired to Gary Duncan for good gain.

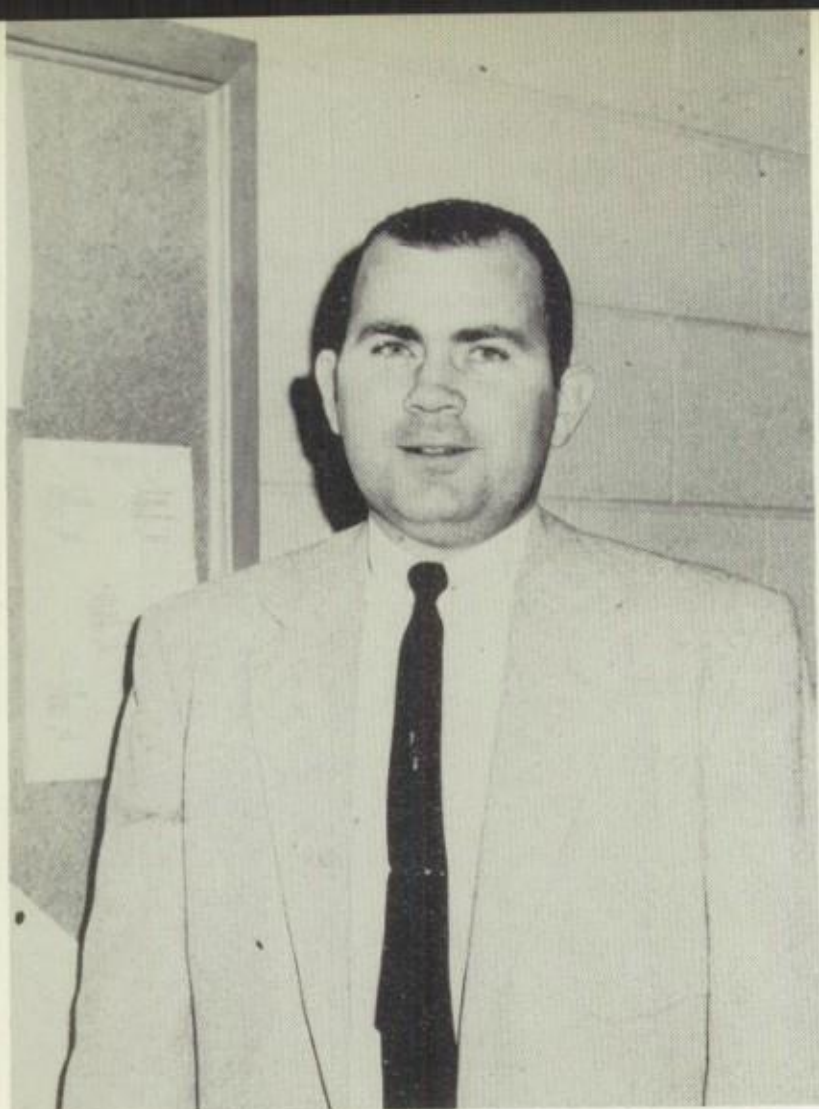

LEE'S SUMMIT 6 - GRANDVIEW 7. In the last conference game of the season, Grandview edged past the Tigers by one point. The second quarter of the game was sparked by a beautiful 100 yard touchdown run by Larry Lang after he intercepted a pass on the Bulldog goal line. To make the run even more unique, Lang lost his shoe on the 40 yard line and ran the rest of the way with one bare foot. A try for the extra point was stopped and scoring was ended in the second quarter of the game.

LEE'S SUMMIT 24 - SEDALIA 7. In their last gridiron match, the Tigers splattered Smith Cotton in their own backyard. To start things rolling, Larry Lang went over from the two yard line for the first touchdown of the game. No scoring was done again until the third quarter when Lang ran for a seven yard touchdown. The next Tiger touchdown was made by a 35 yard pass to Gary Duncan from Lang. Sedalia finally managed to get one touchdown late in the fourth quarter. With only one minute remaining, Tom Boten surged over from the two yard line for another Tiger touchdown. The Tigers ended the season with a big victory and a winning 5--4 record.

MR. ROBERT DIEKMAN

In his six years of coaching Lee's Summit Tigers, Coach Bob Diekmann states that this year's team was one of the best groups of boys he's ever worked with. They were always dependable and had fine attitudes. He feels slightly disappointed, however, in that several ball games were lost that could have easily been won. "Our main weakness though, was due to the number of serious knee injuries which eliminated some good lineman for the entire season." All in all, with the expert guidance of such a fine coach as Bob Diekmann, the Tigers came out on top with a valid record and their first winning season since 1958.

Expert Guidance Carries Tigers Through

MR. J.C. DAVIS AND MR. WALTER HICKLIN

Coach Walt Hicklin, a Science and Math major from Missouri Valley College, is a forwarding asset in aiding the Tiger squad as assistant varsity coach. He agrees with Coach Diekmann that this year's team was actually one of the best he's ever worked with. He feels also that next year's team looks very promising, but will need a lot of work. Hicklin points out that if a team wants to win badly enough they can, but it's all in wanting to win. "Sometimes you have 100% effort from some of the boys, but it takes 100% effort from each member of the team to win." Freshman Coach, J. C. Davis, attended Southwest Mississippi Junior College, Summit, Mississippi and Kansas State College, Pittsburg, Kansas where his major was physical education. He previously coached football for one year at Shell City, Missouri and three years at Pilot Grove, Missouri. This year's freshmen ended with a 3--3 record. Davis did a fine job with the freshman squad and greatly enjoyed working with them. He felt that they handled some of the toughest teams in the conference really well. Davis believes that by their junior and senior years, they will be real contenders in the conference. "They seem eager to play and have a desire to win."

Summary Of 1962 Football Season

This season's Tiger football squad numbered forty-three; ten, which as seniors, saw their last season of high school competition. Out of this unit, fifteen were returning lettermen, and seven had been given starting assignments the previous season.

Led by coaches Bob Diekmann, Walt Hicklin, and J. C. Davis, the Tigers fought to a 5-4 seasonal record. The Lee's Summit eleven actually played better ball than their record tends to reveal. Proof of this lies in the fact that the squad was defeated by such narrow margins as 12-6, 27-25, and 7-6.

General attitude, competitive spirit, and dedication to the game of football in this year's team was exceptional. Led by the powerful and skillful blocking of the interior line, the Tigers surged ahead to gain their victories. In the line, Jack Campbell held down the center's job, flanked by pulling guards, Terry Sappenfield and Mark Fox. Filling the tackle slots were Luis Molinary and Jerry Luther. Bob Henry, early season starter, saw little action much of the season due to a broken ankle. Rounding out the line at ends, Gary Duncan and Evan Jewell played fine ball the entire year, both offensively and defensively.

In the Tiger backfield, Mike Duncan called signals from the quarterback position. Larry Lang, Mike Gibson, and Tom Boten carried the brunt of the Tiger attack as halfbacks. Filling out the Lee's Summit wing-T alignment were Don Snow and Jim Williams alternating at fullback.

Along with the Tiger's fine offensive unit, the squad also maintained a stingy defensive eleven. Giving up less than one hundred yards per game average, the defense shut out two opponents, and held three others to seven points or less. Dan Rowe, a defensive specialist, played good ball and greatly strengthened the Tiger line.

At the season's close, seven Tiger players were rewarded for their efforts with berths on the Kansas City Suburban team. Co-captains Lang and Sappenfield were honored by being selected to the first team. Linemen Campbell, Fox, Rowe, and Gary Duncan were joined by quarterback Mike Duncan in receiving honorable mention.

Lang and Sappenfield also received Kansas City District Team positions. Lang was voted to the second team, and Sappenfield picked up honorable mention.

Basketball

Basketball is the only major sport which was originated in America; it was not conceived by changing an existing game, but was a deliberate and original invention. Basketball developed from the need for a sport which consistently held the attention of indoor physical education classes. It was popular from the first day it was played.

The growth of basketball in Europe and South America was retarded as it was first introduced there as a girls' game. However, when boys began playing it, the feeling that it was a girls' game soon disappeared, and now basketball is enthusiastically played by members of both sexes all over the world.

If one had attended a basketball game in 1891, he might have found it quite different from the game as it is known today. The goals would have been made from wooden peach baskets and a soccer ball would have been used, as it was the most efficient type of ball found at that time for the purpose. He would have also found the number of players ranging from nine to forty men on a team. Only nine players from each team, however, could play at one time. If either team committed three consecutive fouls, (three fouls before the opponents made one) the fouls were counted as a basket for the opposition.

Changes that have come about in basketball within the past seventy years are without a doubt remarkable, but what the next seventy years will produce will surely be something to see.

The Freshman basketball team concluded its season with an impressive 15-2 mark. By close teamwork, they were able to avenge both defeats in return matches. In tournament play, the freshman Tigers carried home the winning trophy from the Grandview tournament and the consolation trophy from the Center South tournament. They are a group of boys with fine potential and will soon be masters of their sport.

"B" TEAM

Tiger "B" Team was composed of an interesting group of boys. They were all sophomores or juniors; some had height, some had speed, but most important they all possessed a great desire. They have performed very well, winning twelve out of eighteen games, and several of these boys can look for positions as contenders on next year's first five.

Eddie Bradley is guarded closely by Park-Hill player as he races down court for goal.

MR. FRANCES TITUS

"Looking over the season, I recall many wonderful experiences," commented basketball coach, Frances Titus. He believes that this year's Tiger team is one of the best that he has ever coached in his nine years at Lee's Summit. To the five graduating seniors, Bob Alley, Eddie Bradley, Larry Lang, Gary Nelson, and Mike Stringer, Coach Titus wishes to extend his congratulations for a fine high school basketball career. He looks forward, however, to returning to the hardwoods next fall, as he will have good veteran players and many new talents also. The Tiger's remarkable record this year (28-3) can be attributed to endless hours of hustle and hard work plus the excellent leadership of Coach Frances Titus.

Willing Work and Skillful Supervision

Gary Nelson and Stan Slaughter look on as Larry Lang blocks opposition's attempt for basket.

MR. WILLIAM TIPTON

Freshman coach, Bill Tipton, who was in his first year of coaching at Lee's Summit, attended Kansas State College at Pittsburg, Kansas where his major was physical education. He has done a fine job with the freshman team and believes their potential to be the best of any freshman class in recent years. "We should have a great deal of height from these boys by the time they are juniors and seniors, and their promise for the future looks good."

1962-1963 Basketball Summary

1962-1963 "Tiger Five" was one of the greatest teams ever to come to Lee's Summit. They finished the season with a record of twenty-eight wins and only three defeats, which is the best record in the history of Lee's Summit High School. The Tiger victories have meant a conference championship, a long line of non-conference wins, tournament championship trophies at Clinton and St. Joseph, and second place trophies at Liberty and Regionals. Tiger opposition was never allowed over fifty points a game, with the exception of the team that defeated them in Regional finals, while the Tigers themselves averaged at least sixty points per game. They also raised the highest score ever seen on the Tiger scoreboard - ninety-two points.

Games this year, either won or lost, will not be recalled, but instead, the outstanding thing will be the wonderful type of individuals that made up this championship team. What made this team different from others was the way in which the boys, in many crisis, forgot personal glory entirely, and concentrated upon the job at hand. Their desire for perfection was intense. They were athletes one and all; athletes engaged in clean, wholesome competition—significantly a sport of American invention.

Result In Top-Notch Record

Tigers receive traveling trophy for second year in a row after downing Christian Brothers at the St. Joseph Tournament.

Track

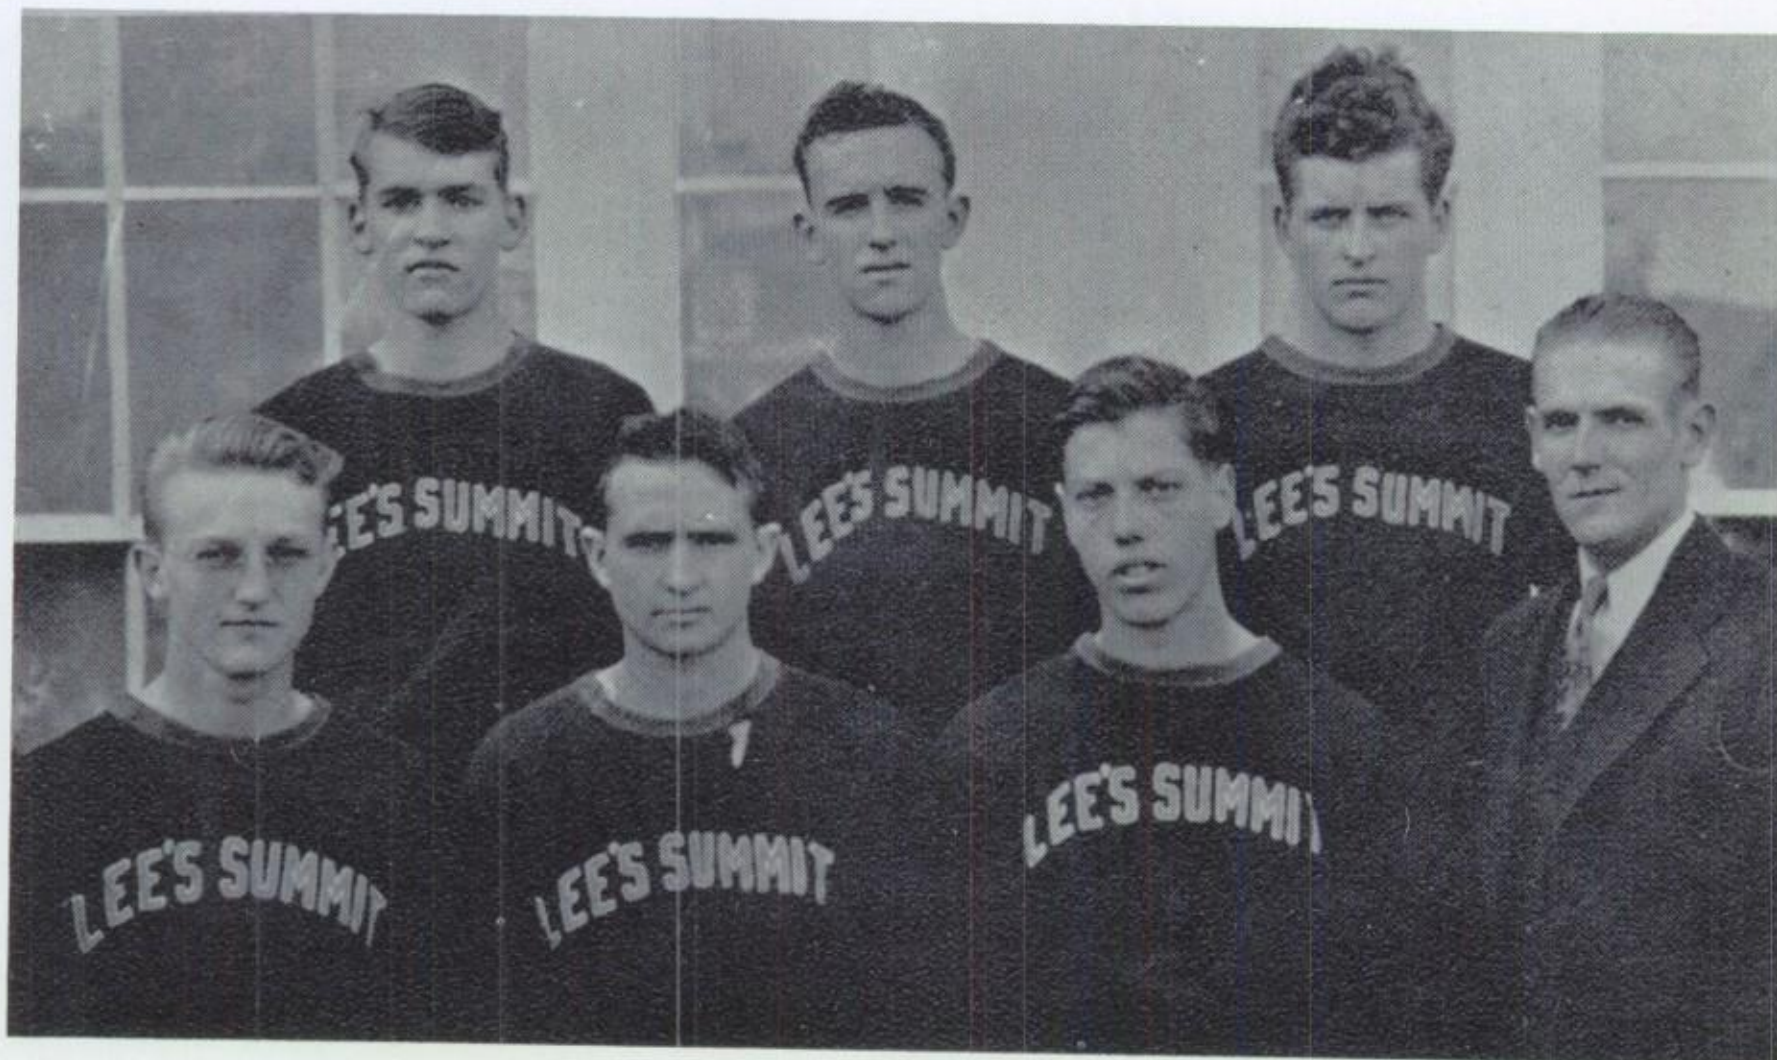

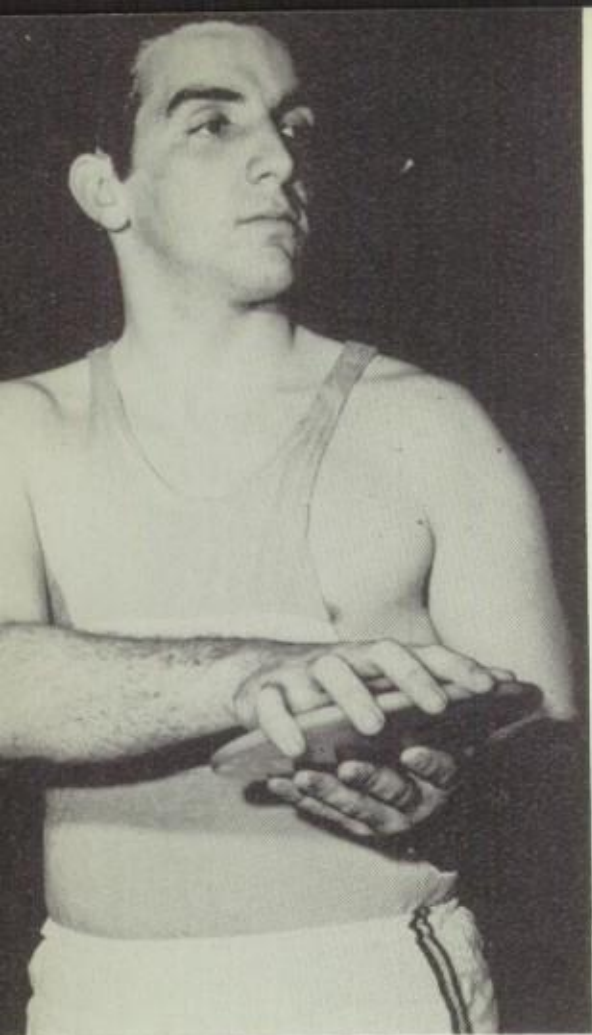

Head track coach, Bob Diekmann, and assistant coaches, Walt Hicklin and J.C. Davis, expect a fine season for the 1963 track team.

Track, along with the other major sports, has taken great strides in improvement. Many years ago, instead of starting blocks for footing, the runner dug holes in the ground with his feet. Track shoes have been improved by using new materials to make them lighter and by the addition of spikes. Not so long ago, a four minute mile was unheard of; now all good college milers run it in 3:58. A thirteen foot pole vault was once very good, but now a high school pole vaulter will clear fourteen feet while a college vaulter will clear sixteen feet. In the past, bamboo poles were used and now most poles are made of fiberglass. In the shot-put, sixty feet was the magic mark; shot-putters now throw sixty-five feet. Aside from these changes, every record has been bettered.

SENIORS

When May came, 184 seniors received their high school diplomas, bringing their high school days at Lee's Summit to a close. As one looked back over these years of study, sports events, and dances, the question no doubt arose, "How did they, as the class of '63, measure up to the seniors that have been graduated in the past?"

The seniors of 1938 attended classes in what presently exists as the Lee's Summit Junior High. During this period, the long skirt and the double-breasted suit flourished. The "hottest" car in the parking lot was a "souped up" '32 Ford, that eagerly awaited to carry its proud owner to a local frolic. Here everyone not engaged in the "Big Apple" would be conversing on the last girls' basketball game.

Although at first glance, these differences seemed large and widely separated from the activities of today, a closer study revealed that these "differences" were not differences at all, but points in common. The interest shown in current fashions, cars, dance crazes, and athletic events sounded amazingly akin to the interests of the senior today.

If one could take a deeper and more detailed look into the hearts and minds of the seniors, both past and present, their real thoughts, basic ambitions, entangled emotions, and principle objectives might seem strikingly similar. Thoughts of college, future occupations, and plans for a home ran through the mind of a senior twenty-five years ago, just as it did in the minds of the class of 1963. Desires for success, hopes of happiness, and deep longings for security have been, are, and will continue to be among the chief objectives of all graduates of L.S.H.S.

All facts considered, one is forced to conclude that the senior of today and the senior of the past, though somewhat different in dress and manner, tend to resemble each other in many, many ways.

Seniors of 1939

Senior officers, Verna Brummett, Lynn Rice, Terry Sappenfield, and John McKee, stand in front of school before class.

Seniors

September, 1959, brought 172 timid freshmen to the door of the Lee's Summit High School. After four years of waiting, these same students now emerge as the Senior class of 1963.

Our freshman class officers were chosen with Judy Barnes, president; Eddie Bradley, vice-president; Carol Schwindler, secretary; and Nancy Browning, treasurer.

October was highlighted by our first Homecoming. The freshmen worked hard to complete their float and received second place, an honor indeed, with "Cage the Cats."

February introduced the freshmen as a superb class by their handling of the Valentine Dance, a great success entitled "Cupid's Cloud 9."

Further esteem was added to the freshman class when Joy Jones was selected to serve as cheerleader for her remaining high school years, and head-cheerleader her senior year.

With increasing confidence the sophomores of '61 launched on a new year. But now they were an official part of L.S.H.S. Judy Barnes was again elected president of our class, with Tom Boten, vice-president; Carol Schwindler, secretary; and Janet Tapscott, treasurer.

Homecoming was the big event of the year for the Sophomores, Pep Club and "L" Club initiation dominating the scene. Embarrassed Pep Club initiates performed before the student body and paraded through downtown Lee's Summit. But it all proved worthwhile for in a matter of hours they strutted down the halls with their new emblems.

"Tigers Eat Cats" was the first-place float produced by the Sophomores that year. And the Harvest Dance, also sponsored by the sophomores, was greatly admired by all. Janet Tapscott was selected to serve as cheerleader her remaining two years of high school.

Fall approached and the Juniors again entered the doors of L.S.H.S., but now as upperclassmen.

Fifty-four juniors were rewarded for their work by their induction into the National Honor Society at the tap assembly.

John McKee was selected to participate in the American Field Service program, and as a result, spent his summer in Sweden. Another student who brought honor to the junior class was Richard Jorgensen who was chosen to participate in the School Band of America 1962 European concert tour.

"Victory's Right Up Our Alley" was the theme of the junior float and won first prize, two years straight for the class of 1963. Class rings and the Prom brought excitement and anticipation for the juniors. Of course, they presented the Prom tremendously, with the theme "Under the Big Top." Praised as "the best Prom yet," the juniors were proud of their work.

1963 finally arrived and with it a great senior class just full of honored people. "Jo" Merino, foreign exchange student from Chile joined the seniors. Tom Boten was elected president of the Student Council. Sandra Constable joined the cheerleading squad for her senior year.

"Bye, Bye Birdie," the all-school play, triumphed in late November with seniors predominating the cast. "Just-Us Over Liberty," the senior's float again proved a work of art as it was paraded through the streets of Lee's Summit.

Sandra Constable was chosen to reign as queen over the 1963 Homecoming game and dance. Jackie Dewitt and Carol Schwindler were her attendants.

The seniors also presented a beautiful Christmas dance entitled "Winter Wonderland."

But all too soon, graduation approached. Many a happy, but yet a little sad, senior marched to the auditorium to receive his diploma. Now it was over--but never forgotten!

Drafting seems to be very absorbing to Jim Maupin, Larry Spillars, Bill Atchinson, Marion Hale and the rest of Mr. Long's class.

Mr. Bobbit will be glad to hear that Sharon McDonald and Linda Ladden are studying their chemistry during choir, and so will Mr. Riffie.

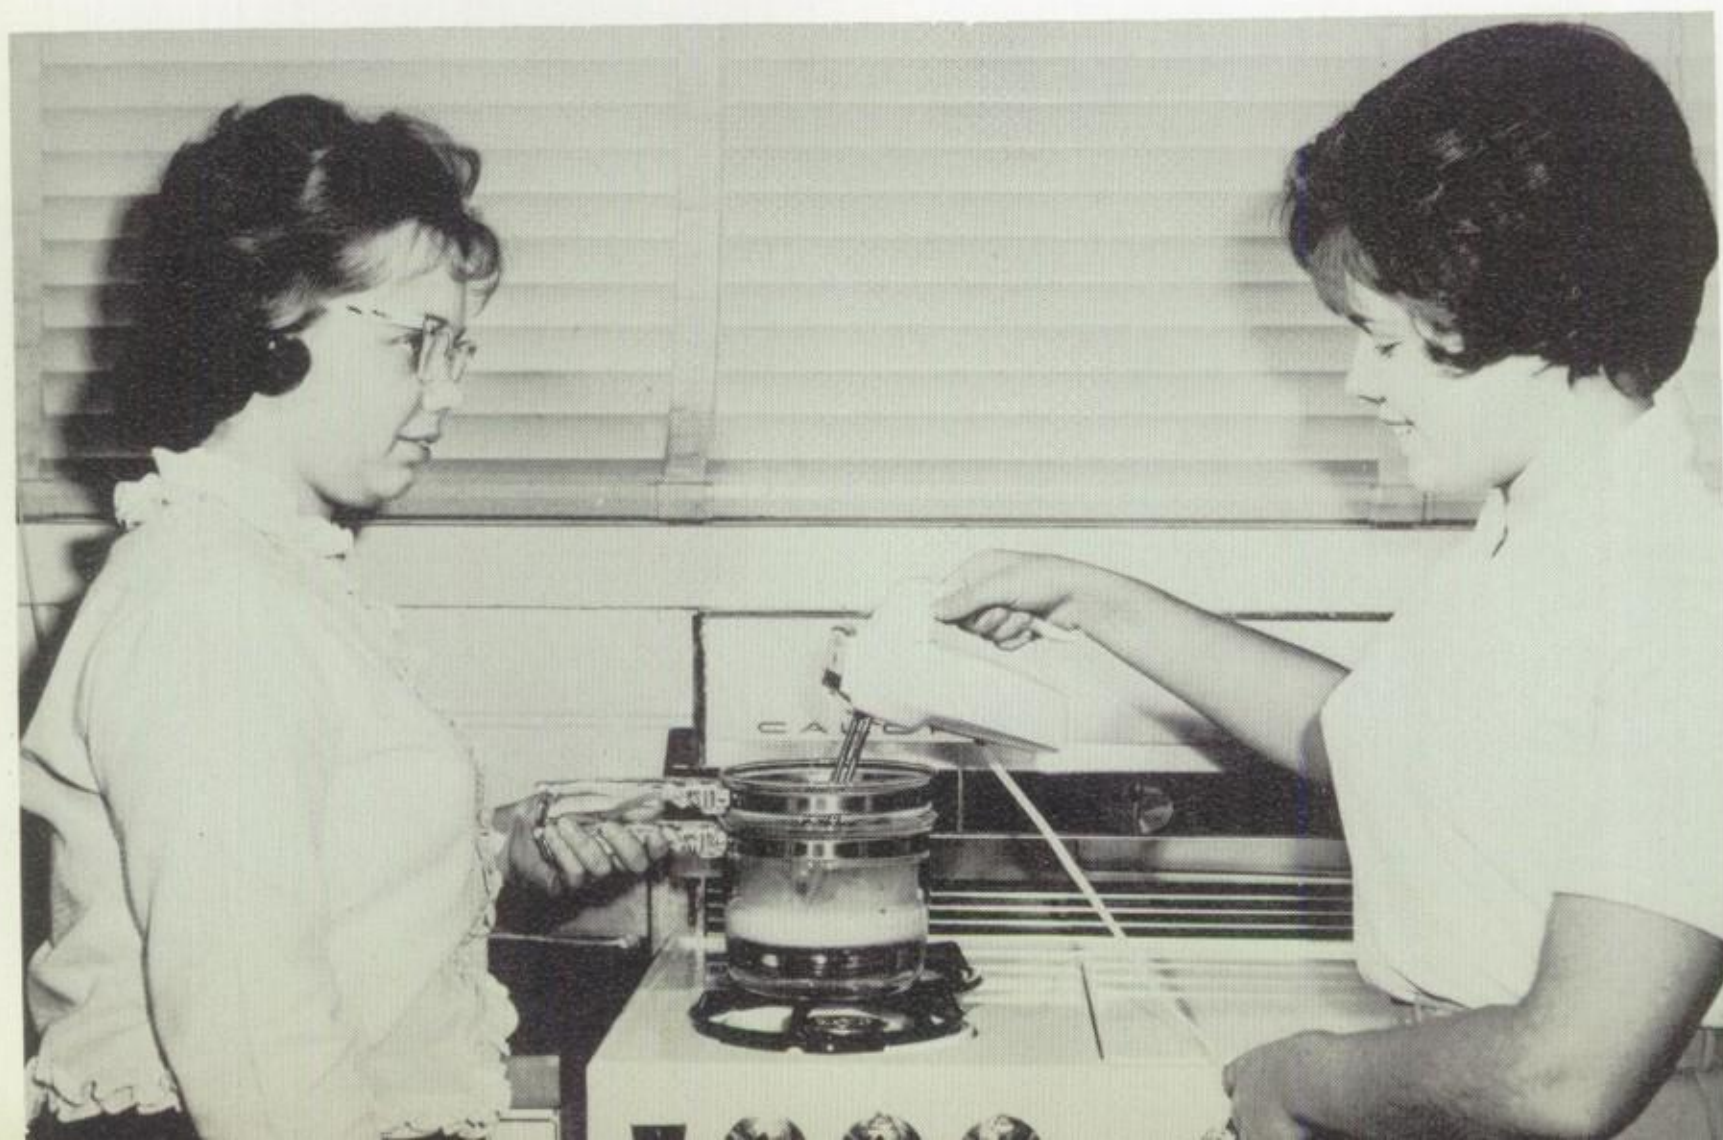

Susan Belt, Florence Dyke, Marilyn Miller, Joan Randall, and Larry Bender sing the "Telephone Hour" in this scene of Bye, Bye, Birdie.

Fourth Lunch shift finally arrives to have lunch.

Elizabeth Decker and Linda Crownover take an active interest in their homemaking class.

Revived Interest in School Song Renews School Spirit

There's a school in old Missouri
That is second to none;
We love to sing her praises
And tell the things she's done;
We're proud of her past record.
And we'll all pledge loyalty
To the school we love so dearly,
L.S.H.S. Here's to Thee.

Chorus-

Lee's Summit, Lee's Summit,
Your colors we proudly fly,
And we'll all be ever loyal
To our dear old L.S. High.

As the years roll swiftly onward,
And we leave her dear old halls,
Our thought turn ever backward
As memory recalls
The days we've spent together
And the happiness untold,
And we'll all be ever loyal
To our dear old black and gold.

School spirit is instilled into every freshman soon after he enters Lee's Summit Senior High School.

Contributing to this feeling is the school song. To make sure the students know the song and are able to sing it at all assemblies of the school, they are quizzed over it at the end of the first semester.

Mrs. Harry McMillan and Mrs. Elaine Wiltsee wrote the original school song in 1935. Mrs. Itrice Eubanks arranged the song in 1936 for band and piano. At that time it was played at all school assemblies and games.

A renewed interest in the school song has resulted in the playing of it at games and assemblies by the Pep Band, and the learning of its vocal parts in Choir. During a busy Homecoming week, the school song helped the people of the town to identify the Lee's Summit Senior High School at a downtown pep rally. Special recognition should be given the school song for the part it plays as an outward sign of school spirit.

Mr. Riffie directs an all school assembly in the school song.
